Shiny Coins

I tried the shiny coin experiment with lemon juice and found that it took a long time to make the coins go shiny. When I tried this with vinegar it made the coins go shiny a lot quicker so i cleaned lots of coins!

After cleaning the coins I put a stainless steel screw in the dirty vinegar. The screw started to fizz and then changed to a pale copper colour because it absorbed some of the colour from in the liquid.